26 April – Goddess and God in the World: Why Feminist Theology Matters.

Speaker: Carol P Christ, Director of the Ariadne Institute, theologian and leading feminist historian of religion. Institute for Theological Partnerships, University of Winchester. Free event. 6.30 pm for 7pm. To book: email Joanna.Wilson@winchester.ac.uk.

“The story of a shift from Goddess spirituality to God consciousness is a complex one which encompasses many social and psychological changes as well as religious and theological ones. The main change was a move from relationality and the web of all living things to a dualistic view of the world and the exclusions that follow from such a view. We would like to take this opportunity to bring some of these issues to your attention and to advocate a reconnection with what has been lost. Contemporary theologians suggest that when Goddess spirituality is embraced there is not only a protest against the exclusions of women, nature and other marginalised ‘others’ but a different way of thinking and acting is embodied that lends itself to the flourishing of all life.”

18-20 May – Above Us Only Sky: Discovering a God That is All Around Us led by Robin Meyers. North East Wales. www.gladstoneslibrary.org

Organised religion is not only in crisis because it is perceived as irrelevant and its adherents hypocritical, but because the language and liturgies of faith posit a God that no longer makes sense in the age of science, or is confounding, even deadly, in its partisan logic. It is often said that we are made in the image of God, but in practice, many of the faithful have made God in their own image. For millions the patriarch of Heaven is dead, and violence in the name of a deity that has been conscripted for every cause and conflict must be replaced by what Tillich called the 'Ground of Being', and Barbara Brown Taylor called 'The Luminous Web.' This requires new ways to worship, pray, and be faithful in the world. Atheists are coming out of the closet, including Rev. Robin Meyers

This course includes entry to God as The Luminous Web – A Public Lecture with Robin Meyers. Robin Meyers is an ordained minister in the United Church of Christ, Professor of Social Justice at Oklahoma City University, and best-selling author.

23 May-27 June – Nonviolent Atonement: Peace church perspectives on the death of Jesus led by Stuart Masters and organised by Woodbrooke Quaker Study Centre. Open to all (20 places). £50. www.woodbrooke.org.uk/courses.php?action=course&id=11532

During the course we will consider the meaning of the death of Jesus and engage with contemporary nonviolent theories of atonement that are rooted in a peace church perspective. Does the crucifixion really imply that God demands violent retribution in order to forgive human sin? Can the church liberate itself from past associations with violence and persecution and embrace a faith that in the words of James Nayler “outlives all wrath and contention and wearies out all exaltation and cruelty”.

This course involves a time commitment of approximately 1.5–2.5 hours per week. This series of six webinars runs from 7pm to 8.30pm every Tuesday evening. Only basic computer skills are needed for this course, together with access to email and the internet. The course takes place in Woodbrooke's online learning website, for which easy registration details will be provided. Full guidance will be given on how to access the course's material, and help is available if you get stuck at any point.

7-10 July – Centre for the Study of Theology and Health Summer School, celebrating 25 years of the Ministry of Healing. With Right Rev Dr Rowan Williams. N. Yorks. www.holyroodhouse.org.uk

10-12 July – God: None, One, Three or Many? Modern Church Annual Conference. Herts. www.modernchurch.org.uk

What do we mean by the word 'God'? Or, for that matter, lower-case 'god' or 'gods'? A majority of people in Britain claim to believe in 'God', but is this 'the Christian God'? And what is 'the Christian God' anyway?

There are plenty of definitions, including the doctrine of the Trinity, which for some has lost its potency with the death of the metaphysical systems in which it emerged, whilst for others it remains the best approach we have. But all the definitions can be and have been contested.

Theology cannot ignore the ideological currents and conflicts of our time. Scientific naturalism, new forms of nature mysticism, postmodernism and feminism all pose their own challenges. What remains of 'God' and how much can remain unchanged? Even the assumption that God must be 'personal', 'One' (or 'Three in One') is a matter for debate.

This conference will ask hard questions about Christian understandings of God, what they actually amount to, and whether they have been or need to be supplanted by other ways of thinking and relating to 'God'.

We will review traditional and contemporary theologies and philosophies, and contributions from the human sciences and the arts. There will be plenty of room for honest discussion, probing questions, and exploring relationships between theology, liturgy, spirituality and everyday life.

Conference Chairs: Prof Linda Woodhead & Revd Prof Jane Shaw

Conference Chaplain: Revd Dr Lorraine Cavanagh

Speakers (subject to change): Rt Revd David Stancliffe, Dr Dominic Erdozain, Dr Rachel Muers, Dr Nicola Slee, Prof Adrian Thatcher, Hugh Rock, Revd Jonathan Clatworthy.

15-21 July – Change Without Decay. Iona Abbey, Scotland. To apply, please contact the Wild Goose Resource Group in Glasgow – 0141 429 7281 or at wildgoose@wildgoose.scot. Supplementary charge £45 per adult, £20 student/low income. www.iona.org.uk/island-centres/abbey-and-macleod-centre-programme

For many people in churches, change is a no-go area, a source of stress and the cause of major disagreement. Yet change is the central dynamic of the Christian faith: Jesus both changes people and in the resurrection moves from being a corpse to a living body. The Wild Goose Resource Group will draw on and explore what we have seen and enabled, such as the redesigning of space; solo performer ministries becoming shared endeavours; reluctant assemblies becoming oases of song. If, after this week, you go away unchanged, ask for your money back.

13-15 October – GreenSpirit Annual Gathering - Restoring Balance: Learning from Nature.

Holland House, Main Street, Cropthorne, Pershore, WR10 3NB.

www.greenspirit.org.uk/ag2017

At our Annual Gathering Working with Nature, our main speaker Nicola Peel will tell us about some of the many incredible projects that she has worked on in the Amazon. She will explain how we can learn from nature to produce solutions to help both people and the environment through biomimicry. The intention is that this will re-invigorate us to find more ways of living in harmony with the Earth and help us to develop solutions for some of the problems that face the planet now.

As well as a talk, Nicola will facilitate a Workshop deepening our engagement with the elements (Earth, Water, Air and Fire) through movement and meditation and challenge us to learn from the elements and identify with them in practical ways. We will be able to give our individual responses and hopefully we will each come away with more ways in which we can make a significant difference in the world.

Nicola Peel has been working for most of her adult life on finding solutions. Since 2000 she has been working in the Ecuadorean Amazon. She travelled from the headwaters in Ecuador down the Amazon River to Brazil researching the effects of the oil industry on the environment and indigenous people who live there. Looking for solutions to help the people she met, she co-founded The Amazon Mycorenewal Project (using fungi to clean up contaminated sites), built rainwater systems for families drinking contaminated water and she has also initiated the clean-up of villages using eco-bricks (empty plastic bottles filled with rubbish). Nicola built the first ecological restaurant in the Amazon (built from 3,200 eco-bricks) and the first place to serve local coffee. Find out more at www.nicolapeel.com.
